LEATHER SEATS

The image shows the rear passenger area of a vehicle. The seats are upholstered in a light brown leather-like material but are completely covered with clear, crinkled plastic protective sheeting. The plastic covers the seat cushions, backrests, and headrests. The interior trim, including the door panels and dashboard area, is visible in shades of brown and black. Through the large rear window, a vast desert landscape is visible under a bright sky with scattered white clouds. In the distance, there are low, rolling hills or mountains. The overall scene suggests a new or well-maintained vehicle being prepared for a desert environment.
